Dear [Candidate Name]:

[Company Name] is pleased to offer you the position of [Title]. In this position you will be reporting to [Name of Supervisor].

1. The starting salary offered for this position is ¥____ 8 annually, divided into 12 equal payments, and shall be paid on the 25th day of each month. In the event the 25th is a weekend or holiday, salary will be paid the day prior to the 25th.
2. Executive shall be entitled to _____ (4) weeks of vacation each year of full employment, exclusive of legal holidays, as long as the scheduling of Executive's vacation does not interfere with the Company's normal business operations.
3. You will be entitled to a sales bonus and MBO (Management by Objectives), which will be agreed upon annually with your direct manager.
4. You will also be granted options for x shares of Stock Options at an exercise price to be determined by the Board of Directors of the Company. See attached details of [Company Name] Stock option program.
5. Business expenses shall be submitted and reimbursed on a monthly basis.
6. [Company Name] will also pay for your monthly Commuter Pass (Teikiken) which is standard practice in Japan.
7. As required by Japanese Labour Law, [Company Name] will also pay your Japanese National Health Insurance (Shakai Hoken) and National Pension (Kokumin Nenkin).
8. Your start date with [Company Name] will be [Date] and you will be working from [Address, City, Postal Code]. This offer will expire [Time] on [Date].

Your acceptance of this offer and commencement of employment with the Company are contingent upon your execution of the attached Company Confidentiality Agreement.

On your first day of employment, you will be provided with additional information about the objectives and policies, benefit programs and general employment conditions. Prior to employment our Human Resources Manager will be contacting you, please provide your health care, pension, identification, and other personal/professional details to insure a smooth and legal onboarding process.

The employee is appointed on a probationary basis for a period of three (3) months. During the probation period, the employee will be assessed as to their ability to perform the job requirements to the required standard as specified in presented job description.

In the event of the employee not performing to the required standard, this will be brought to the attention of the employee and where appropriate assistance and guidance will be given to overcome these obstacles. Should the employee fail to meet the required standards of performance or behaviour, their appointment will terminate at the end of the probation period or sooner, in the event of such failure necessitating earlier termination or dismissal.

We are pleased to have you join [Company Name], we look forward to working with you in the future, and hope you will find your employment at [Company Name] a rewarding experience.
